Humanities

COUNCIL

IHC would really appreciate having this statement read as part of your introduction. Please also remember to call attention to the little display that you've set out....always good to encourage a donation to help us continue our work. (other side is your "podium sign")

“This program is funded by the Idaho Humanities Council, a nonprofit organization that serves as the state-based affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. IHC sponsors a week long teachers’ institute open to Idaho teachers each summer, a speakers bureau which provides speakers for events such as this one, educational exhibits in conjunction with the Smithsonian Institute, and a number of other events which help to deepen understanding of human experience by connecting people with ideas.”

Please visit the IHC website for further information and a calendar of IHC sponsored events.
